    - c. Joshua Weiner: Spoke with OUR during the process.
    - d. Bertram: Leaning towards not sanctioning the individual. During Covid our precedent was not sanctioning for reversions due to it being out of control. This is similar as financial hardships.

  - 2. Speech:
    - a. "Student has another engagement and will not be making this trip. Total reversion." During February had a speaker issue that conflicted with the conference and was unable to attend. Was mistaken on the process.
  - 3. Questions:
    - a. Bertram: Since you work with MSC? The events were scheduled after you were allocated funding?
      - i. Yes, there originally were no events and after the allocation the events were re-scheduled and is on the exec board, therefore could not attend.
  - 4. Debate:
    - a. Magdadaro: Asking for clarification again
      - i. Supposed to attend the YDSA Winter Conference but due to events pushed to that date was unable to go. Did reach out to the accountant to close but did not reach out to SG which was a mistake on their part.
    - b. Magdadaro: Wishes more committee members were there. But inclined to not sanction as this was a situation out of their control, interested in hearing more debate.
    - c. Bertram: Torn as well, a lot of what happened was out of their control and did speak with the business office to close their account. This is unfortunate, can appreciate it that it was not a scheduling error on their part. Leaning towards not sanctioning.
    - d. Magdadaro: In setting precedent, we should not punish students for things out of their control. Therefore, leaning towards not sanctioning, especially since they did reach out to the business office.

  - 3. Questions:
    - a. Bertram: What was the actual reversion date they needed the form by?
      - i. Wangen: March 14th, it was submitted a few days ago
    - b. Bertram: Did the former ORS Chair reach out after the date?
      - i. Wangen: Not that I know of, their rep was former GAP Chair Galloway
  - 4. Debate:
    - a. Bertram: Granted it is a late submission, it was an issue we never figured out last session, want to do that this session. This RSO did take it upon themselves to submit to the business office so leaning towards not sanctioning.
    - b. Wangen: Did send an email a few days ago and that's what prompted them to submit to me.
