- 1. Speech:

- a. Volunteer management director for LEAD scholars, Social and cultural awareness director, good at balancing different roles, likes playing flag football with friends. Great at scheduling many different responsibilities, enjoys SGLC and ELC experiences and wants to continue learning in SG. Fun way to help others while taking on more official SG responsibilities, always something to learn no matter which branch you get involved in, fairness and smooth procedure is very important. Unique SG role, not technically in one branch, still get to know and work with everyone across the branches. I don't want to do the bare minimum, I want to be as involved as possible, saw a great deal of collaboration in ELC with EC, had a big impact on me. Want to devote attention to getting people more interested and excited about SG elections and opportunities, merch, pop-up booths about the schedule and what matters to UCF students, at other campuses as well to increase connectivity. Everyone should get to know SGLC when joining SG, makes a welcoming start to our work, a great place to get started meeting people and making friends.

- a. Akhila: What do you think is one experience in SGLC you think will help you in EC?

 - c. Kennaugh: How many info sessions EC holds each cycle?
 - d. Phillips: Not sure
 - e. Demarla: Initiative you are most excited for?
 - f. Phillips: Getting events set-up for throughout the year to raise awareness about elections ASAP, pop-up booths, random days when people are going to class, quick, accessible info
 - g. Hurst: How do you intend to boost people's interests in other campuses?
 - h. Phillips: Merch (sweatshirts) with SG agents travelling to other campuses to have interactivity, getting to them, maybe not every campus in one, reaching students directly.
3. Debate:
- a. Demarla: In favor, I love her ideas and how she's able to draw on past SGLC experience, seeing many different perspectives for EC, a link between all branches of SG
