    - i. Temple: We should decide what we want our agenda should be early. Last year we had to caucus for an hour, and i want to avoid that.
    - ii. GAC: We go to the capitol and it's super fun, meet with representatives and legislators. And the advocacy agenda is the bills we decide to lobby and talk to the people in tallahassee with. It should represent student issues.
    - iii. Temple: don't worry about backup issues, we should be deliberate and more precise with our bills. Quality of quantity, around 10 –15 bills, but I am thinking about 15 pieces of legislation in training. Thoughts?

1. Damarla: 15 pieces of legislation, but make them more impactful and precise from the start
  2. Sandlin: I think 15 is perfect
  3. Hurst: Having a few less than last session would make it easier for us to make more of a point on specific legislation
  4. Duke: I think 15 works well and makes it potent compared to 30 being too broad
  5. Richmond: I think 15 is great! Perfect amount!

    - ii. Total Responses So Far: 75 responses!!!!!!
  - b. DATC Legislation Amount Caps
    - i. Last session, the advocacy agenda the GAP Committee compiled had to be shortened on an extremely tight timeline, which meant we had to remove some bills that covered subjects that were close to students. This also led to an hour long caucus for GAP during Senate. We had a docket of initially 30 bills outright, and we had to cut that list down to around 15.
    - ii. While we do not know what bills the legislature will file and ultimately see, I wanted to approach the committee to deliberate on how many we will have. I had talked this over with Brooke and we both came to the consensus of about 15 bills in all, assuming we have about 5 priority areas, which from the survey will appear to be the case. But I wanted to ask you all what you think will be a suitable number of bills we will have on the docket, and how many bills will need to be put into each policy area. This is a tentative number, but

I wanted to use this time to remind us all that we need to be efficient in our approach, so what numbers and back ups we come up with today will be kept in mind moving forward.

1. Temple: We should decide what we want our agenda should be early. Last year we had to caucus for an hour, and i want to avoid that.
  2. GAC: We go to the capitol and it's super fun, meet with representatives and legislators. And the advocacy agenda is the bills we decide to lobby and talk to the people in tallahassee with. It should represent student issues.
  3. Temple: don't worry about backup issues, we should be deliberate and more precise with our bills. Quality of quantity, around 10 –15 bills, but I am thinking about 15 pieces of legislation in training. Thoughts?

    - b. Sandlin: I think 15 is perfect

- iii. Election Day Excused Absence Policy Resolution
1. <https://docs.google.com/document/d/1ei3upKzDWugLR6oHT0aWZG9YiaXKs-PqvkP7DK9dAul/edit>
  2. At around 2:00 PM, up to 2:30 PM, GAC Martin and I met with Brodie, Shane from OSI and Amanda Dever from VCE to discuss the feasibility of an election day excused absence policy and in the end Shane has volunteered to reach out to connect with higher level administrators and Amanda Dever will be looking to HR for policies relating to employees and voting.
  3. On our end, Shane had suggested that GAP continue looking into universities that have language that allows for excused absences, such as UGA's 4.06-3 voting and jury duty (Election Day Holiday Research docket)

4. Moreover, Brooke and I discussed potentially drafting legislation that would show our support for such an initiative. To the committee, then, would it A). Be a good idea to draft such a bill, and B). How open are you all to writing it as a committee? And C) how open are you all to sponsoring it?
  - a. They vote on the calendar much in advance, so mean time we came up with this solution.
  - b. Temple: Brooke and I will into other university's languages on absence policy regarding similar issues, for example UGA's absence policy on jury duty. Did similar issues last year but with it being a whole day off. But we did this approach this year because its more attainable and reasonable. Is this a good idea to draft this bill?
    - i. Damarla: Yes, I think its a lot better and impactful
    - ii. Sandlin: I agree
    - iii. Duke: Same
  - iv. Temple: Who here has written legislation in Senate?
    1. Damarla: Yay
    2. Yalamanchili: Yay
    3. Richmond: Nay
    4. Polera: Nay
    5. Sandlin: Nay
    6. Lacasse: Nay
  - v. Temple: Can start writing this legislation next week and Brooke and I can finish it off. I want y'all to get a taste of it and come together on this. I know you guys have varying strengths that can contribute to this legislation. Goal is to have it done by August which is 4 weeks.
  - vi. Damarla: When should we stop circulating it into August?
  - vii. Temple: End of August or Early September:
    1. Damarla: We should have some events and outreach to get RSOs.
    2. Yes! I was just going to suggest the senators send the survey to their assigned RSOs
- c. Bills
  - i. None.
