 - (a) Southeast Student Symposium. Annual conference between 19 universities from the US and Puerto Rico. 17 total competitions. By competing, we have chances for hands on learning beyond didactic classrooms and networking opportunities. Six of Seven comps have a chance to go to nationals. Just registration cost. 85 per person, about 50 members. However, we'll need it by the 15th, after it'll increase. Spending only on registration. We got 8260 from SG last year, this year only 4250 for registration. To put into perspective costs typically is usually 11-12k. March 21st to 23rd. The first two days are on UCF's campus.
 - (2) Questioning
 - (a) Temple: Is there a distance-based restriction for this?
 - (i) No
 - (b) Temple: Post funding procedure?
 - (i) Provided details, informed of 80% minimum needed to avoid reversion and probation
 - (c) Caringal: Aware of prorating?
 - (i) Yes
 - (d) Morisette: How did you decide who will go?
 - (i) Explains the process by which teams are chosen. Sustainability team is unique in the sense that it measures, not build.
 - (ii) We also take into account seniority and activity in the club. All members are able to go to as many competitions as they wish, but the most active get priority. Our head captains were chosen not too long after the last competition.

(a) Yes, I am financially trained.

(b) I am familiar with the post-funding process and can look into the training if I need a refresher.

(c) No, I am not an international student.

(d) The dates of travel are: 4/17-4/20.

(e) The requested costs are: $189 for the registration & $223 for the flights. For the original form in KnightConnect, I attached a different flight; however, I have since found a less expensive flight, so I attached that one in the email as well as the registration that I originally uploaded to the form. If I use the less expensive flight + the registration fee, that equals about $412 (189 + 223); however, I'm not sure if the less expensive flights that are in the same flight time frame will still have seats left by the time I am able to book them, so it's very possible that the flight cost could go up to $300-$350 instead of $223. I would be grateful for any funding, of course, but still wanted to be extremely transparent in that flight costs may rise closer to the conference date.

(f) The early bird registration date is $169 on or before 2/23; however, after that it goes up to $189. I don't think I'd get funding before that, so I'm assuming the registration cost would be $189.
