5. Announcements from the Vice Chair:
   a. Hey y'all. Not much for me today. The legislative watch today is also short as the hasn't been much action in Florida politics recently, mainly due to the very busy federal news cycles
   b. Legislative Watch
      i. The University of Florida suspended 9 students arrested during the campus protests about the ongoing conflict in the Middle East. The suspensions range from 3-4 years. Each student presented their case in front of a hearing body composed of faculty but the Dean of Students, Chris Summerlin, overruled many of this body's sentences that were lighter on the students than the multi-year suspensions Summerlin doled out. Each student has appealed the punishment. Each student is also facing criminal prosecution and has pleaded not guilty.

                a. Gumerov :Is it necessary to have the full location addresses?
                b. Vasquez: I wanted to have the best and most accurate information. Lots of misinformation online
                c. Vasquez: The reason that there are QR codes and website links so both digital and physical copies can connect a student to relevant websites.
                d. Corelli: The date to register for primaries will pass soon. Should we keep that date?
                e. Lazo: When it comes to the digital copy, is it going to be a link or a qr code?
                f. Vasquez: We can talk about promoting it after we decide the information is good.
                g. Greene: All QR codes work. 😊
                h. Candiloro: Do you care if "For things you need to register for" the bullet points have periods? It's a personal nitpick
                i. Vasquez: I can take them off it's no big deal.
                j. Greene: The different subheadings might look better if the font were black rather than white
                k. Vasquez: I can make that change

        iii. Sustainable Options?

This meeting is held in compliance with the Government in the Sunshine Act.
Funded by the Activity and Service Fee through the UCF Student Government.

a. Gumerov: Maybe instead of a QR code we can have a big poster for students to look at for tabling
b. Vasquez: Thats a good suggestion, I hadnt though of that
c. Greene: What if we make the flyer physically smaller
d. Vasquez: Interesting but the info will be really tiny
e. Lazo: I would advise against using the small one.
f. Varela: We focus on less paper and let the political RSOs handout the papers

   iv. Additional Guides
       a. Varela: We should focus on amendments to not confuse students who don't vote in this district. Maybe we can describe each position rather than each candidate
       b. Gumerov: Young voters may care more about direct changes rather than voting on people
       c. Varela: We should not have any other guides, so we don't have too much literature
   c. SG Website Updates: Final Review
