 1. Bhakti Yoga is a practice from the India region, rich in culture. We aim to share this culture with students here at UCF. We do musical meditation; students can bring their own instruments. We talk about philosophy. The biggest practice is promoting food and promoting a healthy lifestyle. We do an event called the Festival of Chariots. Show the culture and share food with the students. Provide students with a free vegetarian meal. Not using UCF catering since they want the food to be made with a certain consciousness. Last year we gave out 900 plates of food. This year we are expecting a little less people but due to timing we cannot get as much help from outside sources.
