Initiatives

- Improving the Accuracy of Class Meeting Times
 - Classes don't often utilize all the time
 - Some classes only meet sporadically
 - Dean Hayes: Wants more information about the classes that Aiden cited as having issues with in terms of scheduling.
 - Question: Only 4 face to face meetings throughout the semester?
 - Aiden: (Describing class again.)

In modules, are there instructional components in the module?

There is confusion living in most COVID, and confusion about what the exact modes mean within some of the faculty.

Following Up:

- Block Classes
 - Dean Hayes: On the provost task force, almost to the finish line. Been working with student government to gauge surveys. Still need a couple months of work before it's proposed.
 - Aiden: Is there anything that SG can do?

1:00 p.m.

- There is a member of SG that serves on the task force. They are responsible for collecting the survey data, about things pertaining to times they like. Got a lot of responses from that survey.
- Block scheduling runs into natural scheduling, and the data is very broad.
