(a) Hello, I'm Sydney and I'm the vice president of this org. Each year our we attend the swede national conference and this year it is in New Orleans from Oct 23-25th. Days of travel Oct 22th though 26th They also have a wait list for possible attendees. This event is a chance for our members ti network with industry professionals, attend sessions, and connect with fellow engineering and computer science students. The president sent over all the information for our presentation, detailing the tri cost and the complete questionnaire. The treasurer and the president are both financially trained. They are all UCF students and no international students. They picked members through an application. The remaining funds are going to be covered through fundraising, sponsorships, and personal contributions from attendees.

(2) Questioning

(a) Wangen: I want to confirm, your days of travel are October 22th through 26th?

(i) Yes, that's correct.

(b) Lipner: Are you familiar with the current fundraising you have already done and how much do you expect to raise before the event is out?

 - (a) We are requesting funds for a convention in Las Vegas called Defcon. It is the largest Ciber security convention hosted in North America. There is a lot of research proposed there, and they also have competitions that we like to compete in to learn. It is hosted by industry professionals that work in DOD, NSA, and FBI stuff like that and is a good way to build connections. We are requesting lodging. I know I put lodging and air travel, but lodging would be the most efficient for us to get as many members there as possible. Requesting lodging for 13 members. $1800 for 4 or 5 rooms. The remaining cost the members will pay for themselves, which would be around $40 dollars. We chose the hotel because it is right next to the convention center and it would cut down on travel costs. It is within walking distance of the conference. Provided southwest airfares. Mostly focusing on funding for the room. Also provide a link to the website and shows the workshops during the conference.
 - (2) Questioning
 - (a) Wangen: Do you have actual invoices, as the ones in the files have the same layout for southwest and the hotel.
 - (i) Yea I created them myself. I went to the actual site and just estimated.
 - (b) Wangen: Can you give us the actual quotes?
 - (i) Yes, I can totally get those
 - (c) Trejo Hernandez: How did you select the 13 attendees, and do you have a waitlist?

- (d) Lipner: What do you want your members to engage in at the conference?
- (i) There are a lot of professionals there and they give a lot of informative information. For example, there could be a vulnerability in a Microsoft OS, so the biggest thing our members would take away is learning how these vulnerabilities are found. It's a great way to engage our members in vulnerability research. There are also things that involve forensics, so using open software to find people. Also networking with industry professionals and getting a feel for the companies there.
- (e) Lipner: I asked because you provided the list of contests but no itinerary, could you provide that schedule?
- (i) They had no main itinerary. Once the talks are available I will provide that.
- (f) Lipner: You said your RSO went to this last year?
- (i) Yes, I believe we had 15 or 16 of our members go. I didn't personally go last year.
- (g) Sherman: Do you know if you received any SG funding?
- (i) We didn't. I don't think we tried to apply for it.
- (h) Wangen: Can you get us the quotes by the end of this meeting, or would you need a couple of days?
- (i) I can probably get it by the end of the day
- (i) Sherman: Could you do it by 1:00?

you say it's more classified as a convention or conference? Is it more of a convention or conference?

- (i) I would say that it is academics. It is a very big networking event as well. It's hard to classify as just academic.

(3) Debate

- (a) Wangen: In favor now with the quotes. Obviously, the numbers are a little bit different than what's in our tracker, but it's still well over the $1,500 that we can fund them at, and I'll keep out it in favor.
- (b) Lipner: I am very torn because this seems less academic and more professionally rooted. I was hoping the RSO could relieve these concerns, but it seems that they are also uncertain about academics. Can I direct a question to the RSO if I may. Can you just elaborate on that concern.
 - (i) Those are the workshops they do offer. They do have speakers that give presentations. Example is they did a presentation on hacking and how to avoid it. The main reason we send our students is so that they can learn from them.
- (c) Smith: Voting in favor. While, there are competitions. I feel like being in the competition gives them academic resources that are valuable.
- (d) Wangen: To the RSO, will be engaging while at the conference with academic lectures, professional networking, or professional development sessions?
 - (i) Yes
- (e) Wangen: Perfect. So I will be voting in favor of those things that I just listed are what are required in our definition for seminar networking. I went to a conference with CRT funding where I was learning all about student engagement, and that is not related to my future career and is not academic at all, but it was useful for what I do at UCF, both in student government and in other organizations. I'm involved in. This conference is unique, useful and well known. Voting strongly in favor.

- (g) Lipner: Further clarify. I would be completely in favor if they were more engaged. The conference does not have which does not have a specific section for networking or, like a resume job fair. I will be fine with giving them funding, but I don't want to set a precedent. I am very familiar with DEFCON and I'm just concerned about the lack of engagement at this conference.
- (h) Trejo-Hernandez: A lot of computer science people don't take things seriously, which explains why stuff is weirdly designed and the names of the contest. I think that the best way to get better at your hobbies is competing either other people and gaining work skills. It is what you make of the conference and you just must take what you want. I will be voting in favor.

This association is a pre-health RSO that is dedicated to supporting Latino and underrepresented students with careers in health care for anyone that feels like this is too big of a field to go into. We are here to support them. The national conference is in Chicago from Sept 5th through 7th. Leaving Sept 4th and coming back 7th. 5 students attending and they are all active members. We have been looking at this conference since last year but no one on board wanted to move forward with it, so this year we have been really on our game. We are requesting registration, hotel, and flights. I was able to find pretty cheap flights that cost about $476 for 5 people. Around $80 per person, but the prices do keep going up. I put last year's registration because they haven't released it for this year, but they posted it today and I went and printed it out really quickly. There is also a gala fee, but we are not requesting that. Since we chose the cheapest flights, bags were not included, so I put the price of carry-ons. We are also requesting transportation from the airport to the hotel, so possibly an uber or shuttle for safety. This is a major opportunity for our students to network with healthcare professionals. LSA is the leading organization in the country for Latino Health and medical students. Increase registration to $350.

(2) Questioning

- (a) Sherman: What would be the rate on the paper that your students would need?
 - (i) So, we are members and pre-med students but they don't have an early bird rate for this year.
 - (ii) Sherman: Based off of last year we will have to increase registration to $350.
- (b) Wangen: Can I just mention with the conference registration that they have the stuff on the website too and it also doesn't have a date. It was just posted so it's probably not going to have a deadline of two days.
- (c) Jones: What did you say you would come back?
 - (i) September 7th
- (d) Lipner: How large is your RSO?
 - (i) About 30 active members
- (e) Lipner: How were the 5 individuals chosen?
 - (i) We were on leadership last year and we all had the highest points in the club. Me the president is going, our vice president, last year's president, and two members with the highest points.

(3) Debate

- (a) Lipner: In favor and everything that they have said is up to date. I appreciate them looking for the lowest prices and it seems like the people selected to go to the conference really deserve to go. I urge you all to vote in favor.
- (b) Wangen: Echoing everything senator Lipner said. The $300 vs $350 makes zero difference given that there were over 1,500 anyways. MTV

(1) Speech

- (a) Hello, 3rd year grad student in the department of biology. Working for Dr. Linda Walker in the Coastal and Festering Ecology Lab. Conference is in Richmond Virginia from Nov 9th to 14th. It happens every two years and I attended the last one in 2023. I applied to do a 10-minute presentation on my thesis research and will also be looking for job opportunities. Hasn't received her acceptance yet but expects for her abstract to be accepted and presented on a poster two years ago. Registration: $385. Other costs are roundtrip flights which is $200 and lodging is $156 a night for 5 nights. Total is $1,365. I expect to share room costs with other members of my lab group and there are about 5 or 6 that are looking for funding from various sources. She is also applying for UCF grad studies and is figuring out other ways to get funding.

(2) Questioning

- (a) Lipner: Do you have an estimate when you will get your acceptance of your abstract?
 - (i) Mostly sometime around late July or early August.
- (b) Wangen: The website says August 1st. Is there a reason you are requesting funding now instead of waiting for your acceptance?
 - (i) I just wanted to get ahead of things. I wanted to self elect for a student volunteer program on the registration but the deadline to submit yourself is August 15th and I wanted to potentially be able to go for that. I wouldn't mind reapplying when she gets the confirmation

(3) Debate

- (a) Wangen: In favor but can't approve until we have the acceptance. Since this would qualify only as a seminar without an abstract acceptance. If the committee is open we can approve this pending the abstract acceptance. When she gets her acceptance she would just send it to the CRT chair

(a) Hello, my name is Annabelle Santiago and I'm the president of this RSO. Requesting funding for flights for our 6 members attending our medical mission trip from Aug 3rd through the 10th and it would be 500-600 dollars. Mission trip is in Peru. There are no international students, and two members are financially trained. The overall trip is to provide free clinical care to underserved communities in Latin America. Over the course of four clinic days, students will gain valuable clinical experience. The goal is medical training and there will be doctors present. They go during every break and pick a place to go. We have never used SG funding since the club is new. A few years ago, they went with UCLA and UNF. We are trying to expand our outreach. Funding just for flights.

(2) Questioning

(a) Wangen: Do you have an itinerary because the only document we have is a screen shot of the flights?

(i) Yes, I can send that over. The first day are arrival. 2nd day introductions and training day. 3rd-6th day is clinical day, so going out to the communities. The last day is an excursion day. Transportation is provided but there will be a baseline flight of 1,295 but we missed the deadline, so we are just doing flights.

 - (iii) Yes, it's the same. The problem is missed the deadline for the baseline cost. So we are just trying to find funding to cover something.

- (d) Wangen: Any religious involvement with this trip?
 - (i) No, it is purely medical only.
- (e) Lipner: Why are you using the term mission and why Peru?
 - (i) Peru is just one of the countries that this organization goes to. We just go to more underserved countries in Latin America. It is mission based because they are doing basic healthcare and clinics.

(3) Debate

- (a) Wangen: I will note that in my understanding of statutes when it refers to us not being able to fund mission trips, that at least in my interpretation is always meant things like religious mission trips, given that we specifically have a category for service trips, and this much more falls under that. I recommend RSOs stop using the term mission trips when they're requesting SG funding, just because that is specifically something we cannot fund. But if people have other opinions, please let me know, because we have funded very similar things repeatedly before.
- (b) Lipner: Similar concerns to Wangen. The term mission trip doesn't necessarily mean religious intent. I have had similar concerns regarding other missions that we have funded in the past, and the term mission trip does not necessarily debate religious meaning, and I believe it being paired with the cultural aspect kind of goes more in depth of what they were trying to go for. Mission trips can be any nonprofit organization with a cold up providing service support to

- (d) Sherman: That is absolutely an option if we want to postpone this. We would just have to see it in caucus because if we see it next Tuesday it will be out of timeline.
- (e) Wangen: I was just gonna mention that the definition of the service trip in our statutes is opportunities for RSOs to participate in providing aid to a community that has no imposition of spiritual beliefs and has oversight provided by an official organization that is the main reason I think that mission trips in our statutes as being parable spiritual beliefs. I think we need to postpone to caucus so they can give us documentation but beyond that I am in favor.
