tabling events. I also created a tabling schedule which is posted in the agenda that is not finalized just yet, but I will be getting that done by the beginning of next week.

- b. Also, I wanted to bring light to a couple of RSOs that I am personally apart of/passionate about: Active Minds and HOPE UCF. Active Minds helps to break the stigma of mental health. I know they have a few events coming up and I can give you all some more details on those as they come closer. HOPE is a newer RSO if I remember correctly and they provide suicide prevention training and overall advocacy. As September is national suicide prevention month, I highly encourage you all to check them out and look into one of their training courses like QPR.
 - c. One last thing, there's some sickness going around so stay healthy!

 - 9. Old Business-

 - 10. New Business-
 - a. Initiative Updates:
 - i. Perez: Working on intercampus outreach (Downtown, Rosen, Lake Nona)
 - ii. Simmons: Chair Renda is working on getting the details from the last film event Women's Caucus hosted so we can get started on planning the next one.
 - iii. Smith: Reached out to ELA about updates on the pamphlets and graphics she said she was working on and am waiting to hear back. I am going to take the week and write an email to send out through KoRT's mass email list about their resources to give to the ELA.
 - iv. Nrusimhadevara: Period pantry
 - v. Teodorescu: Going to touch base with parking and transportation services on improving the shuttle stops, as well as dining services regarding the kiosk improvements in the student union. Also, I wanted to work on an initiative regarding transfer students to do something like a collaborative workshop. As a transfer student, it's something I would like to help others with because advising can be all over the place and miscommunicated.
 - vi. Renda: No updates, just still waiting for the pharmacy to respond
 - vii. Rudie: ILA initiatives and make SGLCers aware of SBA
