5. Old Business-
 - a. JRP Updates
 - i. Want to start compiling Title IX resources for the JRP and see what the process looks like during the process
 - ii. Aim for completion by the start of spring semester
 - iii. Should include a Title IX campaign every year to raise awareness and a campaign for impartial advising for SCAI --> possibly collaboration with JOC, may not necessarily be a requirement
 - iv. Make it clear in the JRP that not all Justices have to do Title IX Training, as well as a post meeting to see if Justices are okay

- v. In the JRP, we currently do not have an impartial advising category
 - 1. Add what training looks like and what meetings look like for the section
 - 2. Add what Justices have to do and what they don't have to do for every meeting, and we might have different sections for each type of case
 - 3. Emphasize that Title IX training is not a requirement --> possibly adding that we can do a survey to see which Justices are interested, and make sure there isn't any peer pressure to join.
 - 4. See if Justices have any preferences and are uncomfortable working with victims or perpetrators, etc.
 - 5. Making sure we don't compromise confidentiality and privacy as Justices seek mental health support resources, etc.
- vi. Focus on what advising updates would look like and potentially placing each type into separate sections as needed
 - 1. Potentially creating a new section just for impartial advising
 - 2. Possibly removing "3 Associate Justices" in Rule 4.06, or leave it to the discretion of the Chief Justices
 - 3. Look at keeping the Judicial Experience Committee to establish it as an official committee and putting it in the JRP
 - 4. Also add about what impartial advising looks like
 - a. We currently have shadowing only, so we can look at making more concrete training
 - b. We have implied power for impartial advising, but it's not included in Title V
 - i. Will not be a requirement for Justices, because it is difficult in terms of scheduling, especially Title IX
 - ii. May need to look at making it concrete and possibly look at tracking the cases after talking to Jake
 - iii. Looking at the distribution with the cases, and relationship with the Attorney General to ensure that the next Judicial Council will have something to work off of
 - iv. We don't have a procedure for the cases, so we should try establishing a protocol.
