[6pm]

1. OPS – student workers paid hourly, usually handle students in some way, might be a reporter
 - a. Worst case scenario: See if Justices who are mandatory reporters can still work on Title IX cases
- d. Impartial Advising Outreach Efforts outside of students
- e. Justices and Mental Health during Title IX
- a. Justice Kennedy to meet with Jake in order to talk about tracking for justices and making sure everyone has a chance to do everything
6. New Business-
 - a. AG Moore Discussion (Moved)
 - b. What kind of trackers might we want to see for various appeals?
 - i. How have our current systems been working?
 1. We have scheduling assistant through Teams so we want to see how much we can use it
 2. Started talking to Jake about tracking impartial advising data
 3. Justice Collazo idea to use spreadsheet with list of Justices and create a column of who shadowed what and who can lead the next one
 4. Jake would like to keep the tracker within leadership for privacy reasons
 - ii. What hasn't been working?
 1. See if we can do a council discussion to address privacy concerns with sharing impartial advising/Title IX cases and whether it should be internal private record
 2. Kennedy will talk to Jake about this
 - iii. How do you imagine we can improve this while keeping what does work?
 1. Balancing privacy and transparency
 2. Instead of showing how many Justices have done one, and each Justice can see how many you've done out of all of the cases.
 3. Maybe we can have point system for the cases, and see if it works as an internal record rather than exposing it to the entire branch --> keep it as a self-check
 4. Seeing if we can have an internal or external report to show how many students receive our services and do a post-survey with a Justice that they spoke with to see how we can improve

- c. Title IX JRP Updates
 - i. Want to start compiling Title IX resources for the JRP and see what the process looks like during the process
 - ii. Aim for completion by the start of spring semester
 - iii. Should include a Title IX campaign every year to raise awareness and a campaign for impartial advising for SCAI --> possibly collaboration with JOC, may not necessarily be a requirement
 - iv. Make it clear in the JRP that not all Justices have to do Title IX Training, as well as a post meeting to see if Justices are okay
 - v. In the JRP, we currently do not have an impartial advising category
 - 1. Add what training looks like and what meetings look like for the section
 - 2. Add what Justices have to do and what they don't have to do for every meeting, and we might have different sections for each type of case
 - 3. Emphasize that Title IX training is not a requirement --> possibly adding that we can do a survey to see which Justices are interested, and make sure there isn't any peer pressure to join.
 - 4. See if Justices have any preferences and are uncomfortable working with victims or perpetrators, etc.
 - 5. Making sure we don't compromise confidentiality and privacy as Justices seek mental health support resources, etc.
